AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please amend paragraph [0077] as follows:

[0077] Next, the system determines if the writing of the broadcasting program according to the identifying information is successful. As a result of the determination, if the writing of the broadcasting program fails (if the identifying information set to '1' at the parameter storage part is maintained as it is), the system requests re-transmission pf of the broadcasting program intended to record through the network interface part, or renews the broadcasting program information stored in the recording parameter storage part.
